

Homework Policy

2021-2023

Statement

As part of a comprehensive and balanced curriculum within Victorian schools, homework is seen as a way of supporting and fostering life-long learning and commenting families with the learning of their children (DET). Regular homework as given by the teachers and home-study are important for the consolidation of learning. It provides the student with opportunities to consolidate the knowledge and skills learnt in class, as well as enabling the student to develop independent study habits which are necessary for both future study and work expectations.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is:

- to reinforce and deepen understanding of the concepts taught during class time
- to extend students' ability to complete tasks and revise class work
- to involve parents in the students' learning process
- to develop skills of organisation and responsibility
- to develop a positive attitude to learning

Guidelines

The following guidelines will be adhered to in relation to the Homework Policy

- teachers set homework regularly and review each student's progress
- the amount of homework will vary according to student learning needs, year level and subject. To assist students in achieving a suitable balance between homework and recreational activities, the following pattern of homework/study is suggested as a minimum:

- Years 7, 8, and 9: 5-6 hours per week
- Years 10, 11, and 12: 1-3 hours per night and up to 6 hours on the weekend; particularly during peak VCE periods. This does not include homework for VET courses types of homework include:

- completion of work unfinished during class-time; completing notes and other work missed during absences
- revision of class work and preparation for tests
- assessment tasks, research activities, pre-reading, projects and assignments set by teachers to be completed at home
- set homework should be worthwhile, achievable and related to the current school program
- each student will use a Compass to record homework tasks and due dates
- effective homework and home study are best achieved when organised and completed as part of a time management routine
- teachers are required to ensure that clear instructions are given regarding homework, and ensure that adequate time for completion is allowed
- teachers will regularly check and provide prompt feedback on completed homework
- parents are asked to monitor students' set homework by regularly checking Compass
- homework must be submitted by the due date
- teachers to use Compass to inform
